

WELCOMING WEEKEND

Welcome to all Parishioners, guests and newcomers at St. Teresa's. This weekend we celebrate our monthly "Welcome" Masses. You are always warmly welcome, but the first Saturday and Sunday of each month we make a special point of spending time to get to know one another. If you are here early and reading your bulletin, please take a moment to say hello to someone sitting close by, particularly if you have not met before. Join us after the 10:00am Mass on Sunday for refreshments and fellowship in our Parish Hall.

ST. TERESA'S MISSION STATEMENT

As members of St. Teresa's Parish we fulfill our baptismal commitment by being the hands and heart of Christ in our world.

We achieve this commitment by accepting the human dignity of all persons, and by advocating for and serving those oppressed in our society.

The community of St. Teresa's finds its strength to fulfill this through participation in the Eucharist, prayer, learning the building of relationships, and action for Justice.

Please join us in welcoming Isabella Maya Martinez to our parish community. Isabella, the daughter of Cesar & Marianna Martinez, will be baptized by Rev. Michael Kwiecien, O. Carm. on Saturday, November 5th at the 4:15pm Mass.

MARRIAGE PREPARATION

For the past several weeks I’ve written about the Catholic theology of marriage. In the process I hope I’ve addressed some of the questions surrounding divorce, annulments, and remarriage. This week I’d like to write about the actual marriage preparation process: just what does one have to do in order to be married in the Church?

First of all, it is important to note that each diocese sets up its own requirements for marriage preparation, and the policies surrounding marriage are determined by the diocese where the wedding takes place. In other words, if a couple lives in San Francisco but wants to marry in the bride’s home town of Chicago, any preparation in San Francisco must fulfill the requirements for the Archdiocese of Chicago.

Generally, arrangements for a marriage must be made six months in advance. This means that if a couple approaches us today (November 6th) with a request for marriage, the earliest we could set a wedding date would be May 6, 2012. This six-month lead time is fairly standard throughout the United States. Once the wedding date has been set, the marriage preparation process begins and consists of the following:

- The Pre-Nuptial Inquiry: an initial meeting and interview where we gather information so as to ascertain that both parties are free to marry (that there are no impediments).
- The FOCUS: a 160-question instrument, taken separately by the bride and groom. When scored, the FOCUS offers the couple an opportunity to discuss issues and concerns that may be problematic in their relationship and marriage.
- Marriage Preparation by married couples: This is usually accomplished in one of three ways: 1) at a Saturday, day-long Pre-Cana Experience (these are scheduled throughout the year and are held at the cathedral); 2) a Friday-to-Sunday Engaged Encounter Weekend; or 3) a series of meetings with couples of the marriage preparation team in the parish.
- A meeting to prepare the wedding liturgy, including the prayers, readings, and music.
- A rehearsal, usually the night before the wedding.

Additionally, the bride and groom each must supply a recent baptismal certificate (issued within six months of the wedding), as well as the names of two witnesses for the Pre-Nuptial Witness Inquiry. Each witness is interviewed by a priest or deacon in order to establish that the parties are free to marry.

This is an outline of the basic process for marriage preparation in the Archdiocese of San Francisco. It becomes a bit more complicated if one of the parties is not Catholic; it becomes extremely complicated if one of the parties has been previously married. Couples planning to get married should arrange a wedding date with their parish as far in advance as possible. By doing this, any problems or difficulties that surface during the marriage preparation process can usually be addressed in a timely manner.
